

THE WHITE HOUSE
WASHINGTON

October 29, 2007

I send greetings to those gathered for the Global Communications Conference, hosted by the Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers. Congratulations as you celebrate the 50th anniversary of this conference.

For five decades, IEEE's Global Communications Conference has brought together engineers and professionals from around the globe to share ideas and new perspectives on a wide range of communications technologies. By promoting achievement and innovation in technology and engineering, IEEE is helping to strengthen ties between countries.

I appreciate IEEE and its members for encouraging professional development and the advancement of global communications. Your important work helps ensure a better world for generations to come.

Laura and I send our best wishes for a memorable event.

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "Barack" followed by a stylized flourish.

Welcome

Institute of Electrical and Electronic Engineers

50th Anniversary of the IEEE Communications Society

Global Communications Conference

November 26 - 30, 2007

As Mayor of the District of Columbia, I am pleased to extend a warm welcome to the Institute of Electrical and Electronic Engineers on the occasion of your 50th Anniversary of the IEEE Communications Society Global Communications Conference.

This year, more than 15,000 members will attend this conference in celebration of ingenuity and technology, and to recognize the great contributions that the profession brings to mankind.

Communications engineers face the major technological challenges of our time championing an information super highway that will speed the world in the twenty-first century.

I would like to take this opportunity to invite you to visit some of our historical monuments, museums, and diverse neighborhoods, all of which make this city unique and our nation's capital.

On behalf of the residents of the District of Columbia, you have my best wishes for a productive event.

Adrian M. Fenty
Mayor, District of Columbia

PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, each year communications engineers of the world gather at IEEE Communications Society's flagship conference, Global Communications Conference (IEEE GLOBECOM 2007), in celebration of ingenuity and technology, and recognize the great contributions that the profession brings to mankind; and

WHEREAS, communications engineers have used their scientific and technical knowledge and skills in creative and innovative ways to fulfill society's modern communications needs; and

WHEREAS, communications engineers face the major technological challenges of our time championing an information super highway that will speed the world into the twenty-first century; and

WHEREAS, communications engineers are encouraging our young math and science students to realize the practical power of their knowledge; and

WHEREAS, the 50th Anniversary of IEEE GLOBECOM fosters original work in all aspects of communications science, engineering, and technology; promoting the theory and use of systems involving all types of communications terminals, computers, and information processors that facilitate the transfer of information in all media forms: voice, data, image and video;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, WILLIAM D. EUILLE, Mayor of the City of Alexandria, Virginia, and on behalf of the Alexandria City Council, do hereby proclaim November 26 – 30, 2007 as:

"IEEE GLOBAL COMMUNICATIONS WEEK"

in the City of Alexandria.

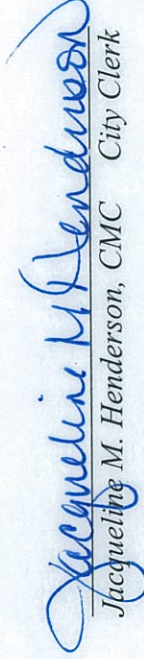

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Seal of the City of Alexandria to be affixed this 26th day of November 2007.

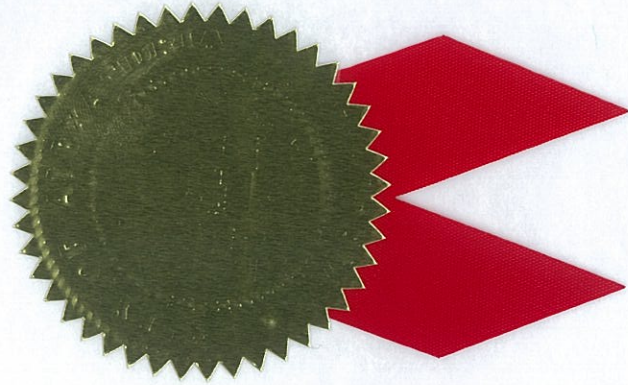

WILLIAM D. EUILLE MAYOR

On behalf of the City Council of Alexandria, Virginia

ATTEST:

Jacqueline M. Henderson, CMC City Clerk

PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, Each year communications engineers of the world gather at IEEE Communications Society's flagship conference, Global Communications Conference (IEEE GLOBECOM 2007), in celebration of ingenuity and technology, and recognize the great contributions that the profession brings to mankind; and

WHEREAS, Communications engineers have used their scientific and technical knowledge and skills in creative and innovative ways to fulfill society's modern communications needs; and

WHEREAS, Communications engineers face the major technological challenges of our time championing an information super highway that will speed the world into the twenty-first century; and

WHEREAS, Communications engineers are encouraging our young math and science students to realize the practical power of their knowledge; and

WHEREAS, The 50th Anniversary of IEEE GLOBECOM fosters original work in all aspects of communications science, engineering, and technology; promoting the theory and use of systems involving all types of communications terminals, computers, and information processors that facilitate the transfer of information in all media forms: voice, data, image and video.

NOW THEREFORE, Robert F. Lederer, Mayor of the City of Fairfax do hereby proclaim November 26-30, 2007 as in the City of Fairfax, VA. And congratulate IEEE GLOBECOM on their 50th Anniversary.

IEEE Global Communications Week

Done this 12 day of October 2007

Attest:

Melanie R. Burnett
City Clerk

Robert F. Lederer
Mayor

TONI COPELAND
CLERK TO THE
COUNTY BOARD

ARLINGTON COUNTY, VIRGINIA
OFFICE OF THE COUNTY BOARD
2100 CLARENDON BOULEVARD, SUITE 300
ARLINGTON, VIRGINIA 22201-5406
(703) 228-3130 • FAX (703) 228-7430
E-MAIL: countyboard@arlingtonva.us

MEMBERS
PAUL FERGUSON
CHAIRMAN
J. WALTER TEJADA
VICE CHAIRMAN
BARBARA A. FAVOLA
JAY FISETTE
CHRISTOPHER ZIMMERMAN

PROCLAMATION

00000

IEEE GLOBAL COMMUNICATIONS WEEK

WHEREAS, each year communications engineers of the world gather at IEEE Communications Society's flagship conference, Global Communications Conference (IEEE GLOBECOM 2007), in celebration of ingenuity and technology, and to recognize the great contributions that the profession brings to the world; and

WHEREAS, communications engineers have used their scientific and technical knowledge and skills in creative and innovative ways to fulfill society's modern communications needs; and

WHEREAS, communications engineers face the major technological challenges of our time championing an information super highway that will speed the world into the twenty-first century; and

WHEREAS, communications engineers are encouraging our young math and science students to realize the practical power of their knowledge; and

WHEREAS, the 50th Anniversary of IEEE GLOBECOM fosters original work in all aspects of communications science, engineering, and technology; promoting the theory and use of systems involving all types of communications terminals, computers, and information processors that facilitate the transfer of information in all media forms: voice, data, image and video;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Paul Ferguson, Chairman of the County Board of Arlington, do hereby proclaim November 26-30, 2007, as in Arlington County, Virginia.

IEEE GLOBAL COMMUNICATIONS WEEK

Paul Ferguson
Chairman

PROCLAMATION

October 16, 2007

WHEREAS, each year, communications engineers of the world gather at IEEE Communications society's flagship conference, Global Communications Conference (IEEE GLOBECOM 2007), in celebration of ingenuity and technology, and recognize the great contributions that the profession brings to mankind; and

WHEREAS, communications engineers have used their scientific and technical knowledge and skills in creative and innovative ways to fulfill society's modern communications needs; and

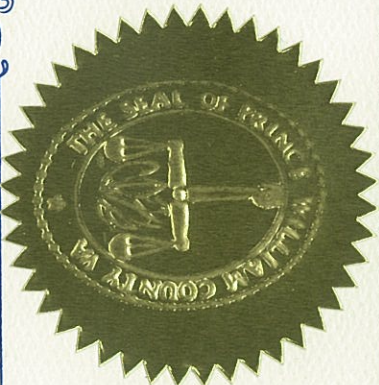

WHEREAS, communications engineers face the major technological challenges of our time championing an information super highway that will speed the world into the twenty-first century; and

WHEREAS, communications engineers are encouraging our young math and science students to realize the practical power of their knowledge; and

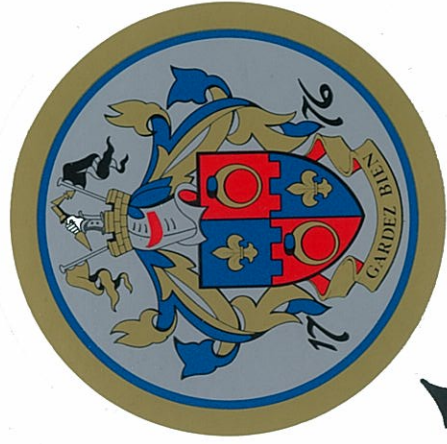

WHEREAS, the 50th Anniversary of IEEE GLOBECOM fosters original work in all aspects of communications science, engineering, and technology; promoting the theory and use of systems involving all types of communications terminals, computers, and information processors that facilitate the transfer of information in all media forms: voice, data, image and video;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the Prince William Board of County Supervisors does hereby proclaim November 26-30, 2007 as IEEE Global Communications Week in Prince William County.

BOARD OF COUNTY SUPERVISORS

COREY A. STEWART
Chairman

Proclamation

Montgomery County Maryland

WHEREAS,

each year, communications engineers of the world gather at IEEE Communications Society's flagship conference, Global Communications Conference (IEEE GLOBECOM 2007), in celebration of ingenuity and technology, and recognize the great contributions that the profession brings to mankind; and

WHEREAS,

communications engineers have used their scientific and technical knowledge and skills in creative and innovative ways to fulfill society's modern communications needs; and

WHEREAS,

our communications engineers face the major technological challenges of our time championing an information super highway that will speed the world into the 21st century; and

WHEREAS,

communications engineers are encouraging our young math and science students to realize the practical power of their knowledge; and

WHEREAS,

the 50th Anniversary of IEEE GLOBECOM fosters original work in all aspects of communications science, engineering, and technology' promoting the theory and use of systems involving all types of communications terminals, computers, and information processors that facilitate the transfer of information in all media forms: voice, data, image and video;

NOW, THEREFORE, DO I,

Isiah Leggett as County Executive, hereby proclaim the week of November 26-30, 2007 as in Montgomery County. I encourage our residents to join me in recognizing the important contributions made by these individuals in the field of communications technology.

IEEE GLOBAL COMMUNICATIONS WEEK

Signed this 26th day of November in the year 2007 .

Isiah Leggett
County Executive